VOICE OF THE BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY COMMUNITY

Vol. 9, No. 15

Friday, Oct. 12, 1956

Provo, Utah

BEAUTY TO COME HOME — Six Brigham Young University Homecoming queen finalists (l to r) Jan Markstaller, LaDean Olsen, Nelly Crowley, Claudia Sedgwick, Klea Haynie and Kay Brockbank, were chosen Wednesday evening to campaign for the student-body election next week. Homecoming week is Oct. 29 to Nov. 3. (Photo by Ralph Barney)

BYU Homecoming Queen Finalists Named for Studentbody Balloting

HOMECOMING queen finalists were narrowed down to six at a reception held for the 15 candidates Wednesday night.

After two days of interviews the judges, composed of Dr. Henry L. Isaksen, Mrs. Lillian C. Booth, and several members of the Homecoming committee selected the following women: Kay Brockbank, Provo; LaDean Olsen, Provo; Klea Haynie, Los Angeles; Jan Markstaller, Portland, Ore.; Claudia Sedgwick, Riverside, Calif.; and Nelly Crowley, Glendale, Calif.

CAMPAIGNING for election of the queen and her attendants will be conducted next Tuesday and Wednesday. Final voting by the studentbody will be held Thursday and Friday, according to Bates Westerberg, queen chairman.

On Tuesday's assembly the six finalists will be introduced to the students and on October 22 the final results will be announced.

Miss Sedgwick and Miss Brockbank are registered in the college of Education. Miss Crowley is majoring in Home Development and Family Relations, and Miss Olsen is an English major. Miss Markstaller a transfer from Oregon State, is majoring in Clothing and Textiles, and Miss Haynie is still in counseling service.

THE ELECTED queen and her attendants will appear on TV and will be interviewed on the radio in Salt Lake City and Provo and be presented at the Homecoming football game. The coronation will be Nov. 1 in the Homecoming assembly.

"Remember when . . . the theme for Homecoming Week, Oct. 29 to Nov. 3, will be prevalent at two mat dances, assembly, the quartet and trio contest the football game and Homecoming dance.

Special Leader Meet Starts Stake Sessions

A SPECIAL Brigham Young University stake priesthood meeting has been called for Saturday evening.

Stake presidency, High Council, Bishops, stake and ward clerks, ward Aaronic Priesthood committees and presidencies of Elders Quorums will meet with Antoine R. Ivins of the First Council of Seventy at 5:30 p. m. in the Smith Fieldhouse.

THIS SPECIAL meeting will be followed by the general priesthood meeting at 7 p. m., also in the fieldhouse.

Men planning to attend the general priesthood meeting, of the BYU quarterly conference are encouraged to bring their wives or dates, according to President Antoine K. Romney of the BYU Stake.

IN OTHER stakes of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints wives of priesthood members are invited to attend priesthood meetings during this time of the year.

Eldr Ivins has suggested that since the campus stake is unique in that it consists of mostly single students, women friends of priesthood members should be invited to this meeting.

Eldr Ivins will be the featured speaker during the stake conference this weekend. Sunday sessions will be at 10 a. m., 2:30 and 7 p. m. in the Smith Fieldhouse.

Happy Hunting Theme Picked For Leaf Hike

"Happy Hunting Grounds" will be the destination of many Brigham Young students Saturday morning.

End of the trail of the Autumn Leaf Hike will be "the happy hunting grounds" at Maple Flats.

Students making the trek will leave from the Social Hall at 8 a. m. Punch will be served to the hikers when they reach Maple Flats.

Chairman of the Associated Men Students sponsored affair is Donna Hogan, Temple City, Calif.

Saturday evening the Autumn Leaf Dance, "Indian Summer," will be in conjunction with the hike. The dance will begin at 8:30 p. m. at both the National Guard Armory, 230 W. 5th N., and the Social Hall.

The Armory will feature the Y's Men and Bob Evan's orchestra will play at the Social Hall.

Walt Winkelman, Salt Lake City, chairman of the dance, had asked that everyone wear either red or green to fit in with the theme of the dance.

Tickets for this event will be 75c per couple and the dress is to be heels and hose.

Freshman Finals Planned Friday For Class Officers

Votes cast by freshman Friday determine who will fill the six freshman offices.

Booths will open at 8 a. m. and close at 3:30 p. m. They will be placed in the Eyring Science Center, Smith and McKay buildings.

Studentbody cards are necessary. No one may vote without a card.

Winners will be announced at the Autumn Leaf Dance, which will be held at 8:30 p. m., Saturday in the Provo Armory and Social Hall. Winners names will also appear in the Daily Universe Monday morning.

The election committee has decided to have all the results of this final balloting published. This will include percentage age of freshman voting, and the number cast for each candidate.

Frosh to Probe Fracas at Senior Court

A Freshman Court Council has been set up under the direction of the Studentbody President Monroe McKay.

The purpose of the council, according to chairman John Wilcox, Calgary, Alberta, Canada, is to investigate the disturbance at Senior Court last Thursday night.

To successfully investigate the disturbance, the court would appreciate it if all those responsible for the interruption would report to members of the court so that such future incidences may be prevented.

The temporary committee is authorized by both the student body officers and the administration.

IOC Publicity Men to Meet

All organizations are requested to have a representative and a permanent publicity representative at Inter Organizational Council meeting according to Phil Koldweyn, IOC publicity director.

The meeting will be held Monday at 7 p. m. in 270 Eyring Science Center.

Fledgling Sponsors Selected, Named After Eliminations

Sponsor corps held eliminations this week and 45 girls were chosen to be members on the basis of activities, poise, scholarship, and marching ability.

Karen Anderson, Carma Baker, Helen Beckstrand, Shirley Bodine, Connie Brooks, Sharon Cahoon, Celily Collins, Vicki Durrant, Antoinette Hatch, Judy Grover, Mary Ann Nelson, Jackie Reddish and Lillie Salazar were picked.

Also successful were Carol Scholes, Catherine Smith, Bobbie Stadtmiller, Marilyn Swensen, Charlyn Thorne, Shirley Walker, Carolyn Webb, Diana Whiffen, Dolores Waight, Loa Ano Oberhansky, Diane Oates, Marilyn Lewis, and Carolyn Osmond.

Sophomores chosen were Sue Marie Anderson, Janelle Brimhall, Connie Chandler, Karen Dixon, Daisy Flenniken, Jackie Kozak, Marcia Morgan, Karen Morrey, Maralyn Stephenson, Shirley Walker, Jessie McDonald, Carolyn Redd and Beverly Painter.

Junior and senior coeds entering the corps were Nan Matice, Kathryn Orme, June Tayama, Carolyn Stettler, Pat Ingram and Sue Ann Staples.

President Wilkinson Reported 'Fair' After 'Comfortable' Night

President Ernest L. Wilkinson was reported in "fair" condition Thursday morning in Salt Lake City's LDS Hospital.

Hospitalized Oct. 5 with coronary occlusion, Pres. Wilkinson was reported to have rested comfortably Wednesday night.

Coronary occlusion is a blood clot in one of the arteries leading to muscle tissues of the heart. It deprives the muscles of blood supply to the particular area and causes tissue deterioration.

Recovery depends on the resolving of the clot or on other blood vessels in the area taking up the load and servicing the stricken area.

It is reported that the latter means is the most common in the cure and healing of coronary occlusion cases.

It was estimated that Pres. Wilkinson will be away from the campus for at least 6 weeks and that a longer period of recuperation will be necessary before he resumes active participation in university affairs.

Pres. Wilkinson was sent to LDS Hospital after an examination disclosed he was suffering from the occlusion. He was in Salt Lake City attending the semi-annual conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Majorette Tryouts Set

Majorette tryouts will be held Saturday morning in the Social Hall. Girls with one year experience in all classes of flag or baton twirling are asked to try out.

Deadline Reminder Issued by Magazine

Deadline for Wye magazine submissions is Nov. 1.

All students who wish to submit either written material, art work or photography should place it in one of the campus mailboxes or take it to the Wye office, 147 Student Service Center.

In order to assure acknowledgement and return of your material include name, address and phone number. An envelope should also be included.

Awards will be given by the Wye Magazine for the first time this year for the best work in the different fields.

All students are eligible and are encouraged to submit material for publication.

PRAYERFULLY

One of the greatest men ever to be connected with Brigham Young University is lying seriously ill in Salt Lake City's Latter-day Saint Hospital.

University President Ernest L. Wilkinson, who was hospitalized with a coronary occlusion Oct. 5, is said to have spent several uncomfortable nights since entering the hospital.

According to various medical reports, his condition has ranged from "fair" to "poor" to "satisfactory" and he has been described lately as "resting comfortably."

It is hard to imagine this energetic individual, who never seems to slow down even for a moment, inert and incapacitated.

Pres. Wilkinson is the type of person who seldom rests, and whose mind is continually considering university problems and absorbing new details.

Indications are that our President, even under the most favorable conditions, will not return to his job during fall quarter, and possibly not until late in winter quarter.

The thoughts and prayers of all members of the Brigham Young University community are with our dynamic President in this period of illness.

Humbly and prayerfully we confidently anticipate his return to the BYU administrative helm.

ELDER BACHELORS, ARISE

THE TIME has come, it is felt by two certain bachelor newspaper editors, for the formation of a society or group on campus, which we would call the SBOTFMAA.

This organization, Senior Bachelors-Over-Twenty-Five Mutual Assistance Ass'n., is sorely needed for those members of the male student-body who are faced with the bleak prospect of graduating this coming June without having wooed and won one of those delightful members of the fair sex which abound in such profusion on this, the most blessed of all campuses.

THE OVER-25 mark is stressed because of the statement of the namesake of our university which classified bachelors over 25 as the "most dangerous men in town." It is also felt that if a fellow hasn't trod the wedding path by the time he is 25 it is evident he, and others in his predicament, need some sort of assistance.

Think of the possibilities, you who have passed the quarter-century mark without the prospect of a mate and helpmeet.

Regular meetings would be held at which guest speakers would be invited to address said bachelors on the finer points of developing the necessary persuasions for the winning of fair ladies.

THERE COULD be a recently-married fellow to offer firsthand and timely tips on the masterly art of wooing and winning. Or, we could have one of the opposite gender offer her ideas on what the average female expects and would like in the way of attention and favors from the fellows.

Even a pooling and exchange of ideas and techniques between members of the association would be a most valuable thing.

The group might even possibly apply pressure on the Preference Ball Committee to allow the publication of names and campaigning by those of us who aren't likely to see 24 again.

CERTAINLY the editor and managing editor of the Daily Universe, who have taken to lying awake nights worrying about the problem in their own behalf, would be willing to cooperate in the publication of the names.

Take warning, you have less than 75 years to the century mark, and don't let these last few months slip by without joining with your fellows in organizing to make a concerted effort in the solution of your problem. Remember, in unity there is strength—and in love, peace, war, or any other calamity which may overtake you, you don't get any younger.

Early Symptoms Detection Seen In Heart Cases

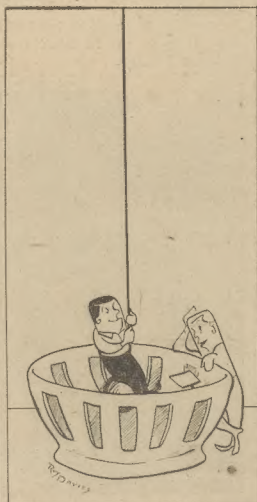

LOS ANGELES—(INS)—A medical scientist says that it is now possible to spot persons susceptible to heart attack and he suggests a national screening of the population to pick them out.

Dr. John W. Gofman of the University of California, Berkeley, told a Los Angeles County Heart association symposium Tuesday that it has now been solidly proved that people with a high level of giant fat molecules (lipoproteins) in their blood are likely to develop coronary artery disease.

So, he said, the thing to do is to find them and encourage them to lower the giant fat molecule level through diet and other means.

Most of the speakers at the symposium blamed high fat diets for heart disease. The more fat in the diet, the more heart disease.

But one speaker, Dr. Meyer Friedman of Mt. Zion Hospital, San Francisco, thought that fat was just one factor. He contended that stress and strain has a lot to do with it.

O. K., so you're sitting on top of the world. Now get off that pendulum and come out of there

Universe Editor Denies Blame In Pogo Dispute

Daily Universe editor Ralph Barney Thursday repudiated a rumor charging him with responsibility in the banishment of Pogo comic strip from the pages of the student newspaper.

The story, appearing in the Sports Section of Thursday's Daily Universe, charged Barney with dropping Pogo in order to have room to "write far more editorials for each paper."

"The charge is absurd," Barney retorted, when he saw the story.

"No conscientious newspaperman would further such rumors," he said, "so I assume it must have been the Universe's sports editor who responsible."

"My position on the Pogo situation is clear," he added. "I am even going so far as to pass out petitions for the restoration of that (ahem) strip."

"I urge all thoughtful readers to ignore so-called 'details' concerning my alleged actions," he concluded.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibler

"WORTHAL'S PARTICULAR - HE WON'T BE SEEN WITH JUST ANYTHING"

From The Tower

BYU'S "FIREBALL" president is still out of commission and reported in "fair" condition at the Latter-day Saints Hospital in Salt Lake City.

President Wilkinson is suffering from a coronary occlusion, a serious heart ailment occurring from a blood clot lodged in one of the arteries of the heart. It shuts off or reduces the blood supply to a particular area of the heart causing tissue deterioration in that area.

THE PRESIDENT'S recovery depends on the clot resolving or the other blood-carrying passages taking the load to compensate the closed off artery.

In simple English our president is a sick man; possibly more ill than most of us realized at the time he was stricken.

FOR THE MAN we fondly refer to as "Ernie" when we see him vaulting walls to hurry into a football game, or racing across campus at his usual half-trot we would like to suggest student prayers in his behalf.

Prayers have worked miracles and it is possible that prayer might resolve blood clots.

THE SENATE has officially commended this year's frosh orientation committee on their "outstanding management of the orientation program from the student level." We'd like to add our congratulations on a job well done.

Barrie McKay and his committee added several new features to orientation this year.

These included taxi service, frosh arriving at bus and train depots, informal receptions, studentbody leaders and friends assisting in locating housing as well as the establishment of information booths and coming committees.

Pre-school orientation in 1965 was another "first" which was successfully carried out by committee.

The innovations were, of course, designed to make freshmen feel welcome and favorably impress them at BYU besides making it easier to plunge into college life a little easier. Let's hope the frosh realize and appreciate this service as much as the Senate.

THE BERLIN Philharmonic Orchestra is coming to town soon. This is a rare treat not to be missed. Besides being one of the world's best orchestras, the largest to ever visit Utah, Herbert Von Karajan conducted 106 of Europe's finest music on their second North American tour.

Tickets are already selling fast. Don't wait too long to yours.

FRESHMEN have a good opportunity Friday to begin practicing good citizenship in BYU community.

It's so easy not to bother to vote, but so important to the extra minutes to cast a lot—no matter what community or what election is involved.

Mademoiselle Offers College Board Prizes

New Students Pay To Take English; Meet Requirements

Senior Orchestras Dancers Meet, Socialize, Plan Year's Projects

FREE TRIPS to New York City and a month's work on the staff of a national magazine are the prizes being offered undergraduate women who enter Mademoiselle Magazine 1956-57 College Board contest.

The contest offers a chance for women to win one of the twenty Guest Editorships—a month on the staff of Mademoiselle.

Those who are accepted on the College Board do two assignments during the college year. Assignments to give College Board members a chance to write features about life on their campus. Art work and fashion as well as feature, fiction or promotion ideas may be submitted.

College Board members have the opportunity to develop critical and creative talents as well as to win cash prizes and have published any outstanding work they submit during the contest.

Twenty Guest Editors will be chosen from the College Board members to help write, edit and illustrate the August College issue of Mademoiselle. They will be paid salary for their month's work, plus round-trip transportation to New York.

While in the East each Guest Editor will interview a celebrity in her chosen field, visit newspaper offices, fashion workrooms, stores and advertising agencies. She will also work daily with the Mademoiselle Editor to whom she is assigned.

Interested coeds should write a 1500 word critique of editorial section in Mademoiselle's August 1956 College issue (or a later issue). November 3 is the deadline for applying.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Lillian Booth, Dean of Women, room 198 Engineering Building. Names of applicants should also be submitted to Mrs. Booth.

"Students pay for the privilege of taking English A," said Marshall Craig, director of freshman English at Brigham Young University.

One of the newest innovations to improve spoken and written English at BYU, English A costs the student $10 and he receives no grade or college credit. At the end of this course the student is required to take a test to assure entrance into English 1, the required credit course for freshmen.

The fee for English A defrays expenses in keeping the class number under twenty. "There should be even fewer students than that in a class," suggests Dr. Craig.

Indicating how this non-credit class adds to the teacher load Dr. Craig demonstrated that 15 per cent of the English Dept.'s time is spent in this instruction. This evidence depicts a sub twenty per cent entrance norm for the 300 odd freshmen enrolled in English A, as compared to the national average.

Senior Orchestras began its activities last week with a social, called "Don't Be A Cream Puff."

This national dance group under the direction of Mrs. Gerrie Glover and Marilyn Wood, will teach dance therapy at the state hospital each week. They will also work with a children's dance theater. Plans are also being made to go on tour with the band and men's and women's chorus in the spring.

Their annual concert will be presented the last part of January next year. It will be performed with a symphony orchestra. This will be the first time for such in an American college.

The organization is under the leadership of Janice Tenny, Chino, Calif.; Maida Rust, Salem, presidents; Karen Ellsworth, Chino, Calif., vice president; Shirlene Oswald, Idaho Falls, Idaho, secretary; Karen Grimmett, Provo, social chairman, and Keith Nelson, Phoenix, Ariz., advertising manager.

Vogue Magazine is sponsoring a career contest for college seniors.

Any senior who is interested in a career in fashion, writing, decorating, advertising, merchandising or publishing is invited to enter the "Prix de Paris" contest.

Contestants must complete two quizzes using Vogue as a textbook. If both quizzes are answered satisfactorily the contestant is eligible to write a 1500 word thesis on a topic in Vogue.

First prize is $1,000 cash or two weeks in Paris. Second prize is $500 cash. There will be ten honorable mention prizes of $10 each.

All winners will be considered for jobs in Vogue and other Conde Nast publications. Top contestants will be recommended to stores, advertising agencies, and other magazines.

Entry blanks may be obtained and submitted at the office of Mrs. Lillian C. Booth, dean of women. Deadline is October 15.

Under the instruction of Leeland Perry, this non-credit class is designed for beginners who are interested in elementary principles of radio communication. Particular attention will be paid to the Federal Communication Commission license requirements for an amateur "ham" license.

This class is not highly technical, Mr. Perry said. It will serve the needs of both men and women who would like to know more about radio communications, such as elementary theory and code practices.

A fee of $7.50 for the 10-week course is being asked. The class will meet each Friday in room 6 of the Physical Plant-Nursing Building on the BYU campus.

Senior students assist the instructors by dictating to groups twice each Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday. The schedule is arranged so each student is offered tests twice a week at his speed level. Each student must pass three tests before progressing to the next speed level.

This method gives students the opportunity to take dictation from someone other than the instructor.

Yanks Come Through; Humble Game Dodgers

by Howard Hill
Universe Sports Writer
New York manager Casey Stengel, found just the right recipe he needed to win four of the seven series games from the Dodgers.

First he threw in some powerful hitting from the rolling-pins of Yogi Berra, Mickey Mantle and Enos Slaughter, then he added a perfect game by Don Larsen, and spiced his recipe by adding a pinch of good pitching by Whitey Ford and Johnny Kucks.

However, the Yankees for the first time in their numerous World Series appearances, dropped the first two games. The American League champs came back to win the next three, but the Dodgers won the sixth game. Then New York, always cool under pressure, won the deciding game, 9-0.

THE OUTSTANDING part of the whole series was Don Larsen's perfect pitched game against Brooklyn. Not since 1934 had a perfect game been pitched in the major leagues, but this fifth series contest was the best and most dramatic pitched game in 80 years of baseball.

Back at Ebbets Field for the sixth game, the Yanks had a chance to sew up the series, but Jackie Robinson's single in the tenth inning to break up a scoreless tie, ended the game to even up the series for the Dodgers.

With the chips on the table in the final game, New York collected the jackpot.

To make it worse, Yankees collected the jackpot at Ebbets Field and they collected it in big bunches. Berra's two two-run home runs sent the Yankees on their winning way, and then Elston Howard added another four bagger to put his teammates one more up on the board.

The pot was clinched when Bill Skowron collected a grand-slam home run.

The opening game at Ebbets Field saw Sal (the barber) Maglie pitch the Dodgers to a 6-3 win, despite Yankee homers by Mantle and Billy Martin.

BROOKLYN handed the Yanks their worst world series set back as they trounced the World Champs, 13-8. The Yanks jumped out to a 6-0 second inning lead, but the Dodgers scored six runs in the second frame to tie the game. Gil Hodges, Duke Snider, Junior Gilliam and Pee Wee Reese were the big stars offensively for Brooklyn.

The third game with action being switched to Yankee Stadium, saw Ford pitch an eight hitter. Slaughter, before 73,977, hit a three run home run in the sixth inning to win the game for the Yanks.

New York evened the series up in the 4th game as Tom Sturdivant hurled the Yankees to a 6-2 victory.

Brig's Win Intramural Trophy For 1955-56; Play Begins Again

WEDNESDAY afternoon the Brigadier social unit was awarded the social unit supremacy trophy for their superior performance during the 1955-56 intramural sports program.

Each year two intramural supremacy trophies are awarded to units having the best participation record for school year.

One trophy is for the leading group among social units and clubs, and one trophy for the leading group among wards housing units and independents.

COMPETITION for this year's award gets underway this week with flag football and tennis.

William Hafen, intramural director, announces he is very pleased with the response to this year's flag football season. Entries submitted reveal an increase of 17 teams over last year's play.

Fifty teams have voiced their desire to compete in this year's tournament, and have been broken down into six different leagues of competition. Following is a breakdown by leagues: Social Units, 7; Housing Units, 12; Geographical Clubs, 7; Independents, 24.

AT THE CLOSE of league play, the winner of each division will enter into a play-off to decide the overall winner. Each team will play an average of twice per week, Monday through Thursday.

Friday afternoon intramural tennis swings into high gear at the university courts. Approximately eighty entries have been submitted to the intramural of fice.

Due to the limited facilities in handling such a large group, the tournament will be single elimination.

Utah Depth Hurt Cats, Says Coach

by Jerry Cunningham

"I've seldom seen a team with such depth right down the reserve bench. And it was their depth that made the greatest difference."

"Right now I would say the Redskins are a good bet to take the Skyline title and finish the season undefeated," stated Head Football Coach Harold Kopp after the tough Utah game.

Lauding the courage of the Cougars, Kopp said, "Our boys, the regulars, managed to hold them pretty well for the first three quarters, but there was just too much power there to contain for 60 minutes."

Coach Kopp was encouraged by the Cat offensive display.

"For one thing, he said, "the Cougars ran up a total of 153 yards rushing, or more than we had for the first three games of the season."
